

13,000 BUILDINGS PER DAY

Learn why the construction industry needs to build an average of 13,000 buildings every day through 2050.

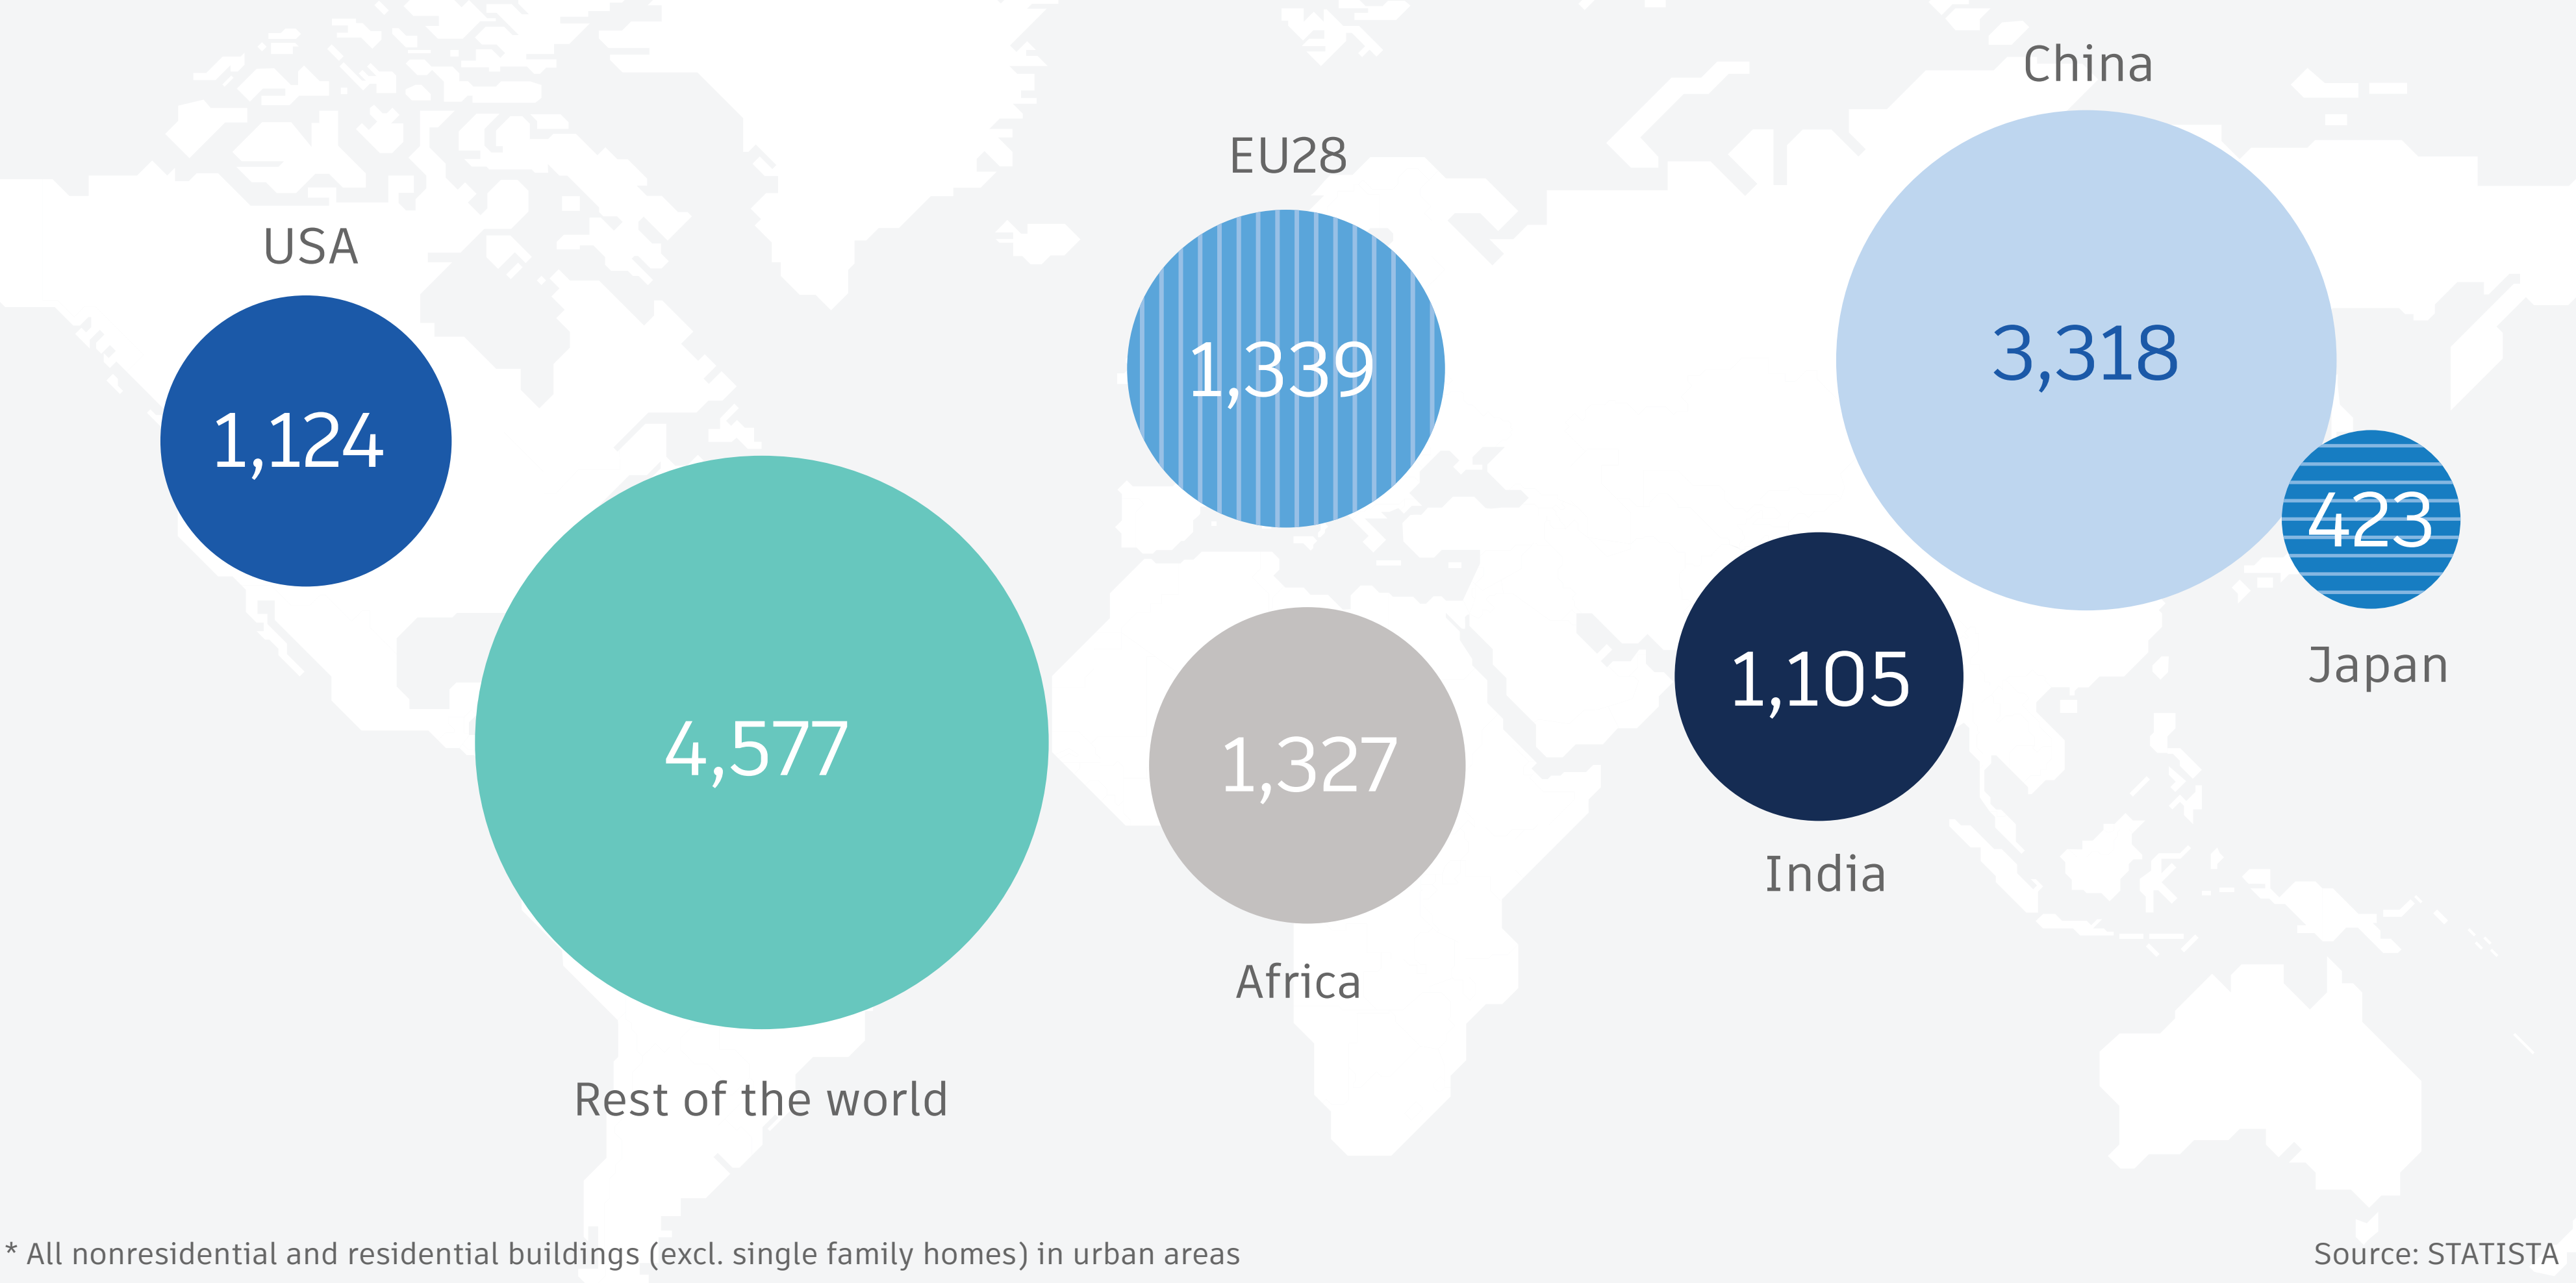

By 2050, the global population will rise to
9.7 billion
6.4 billion
are expected to live in cities

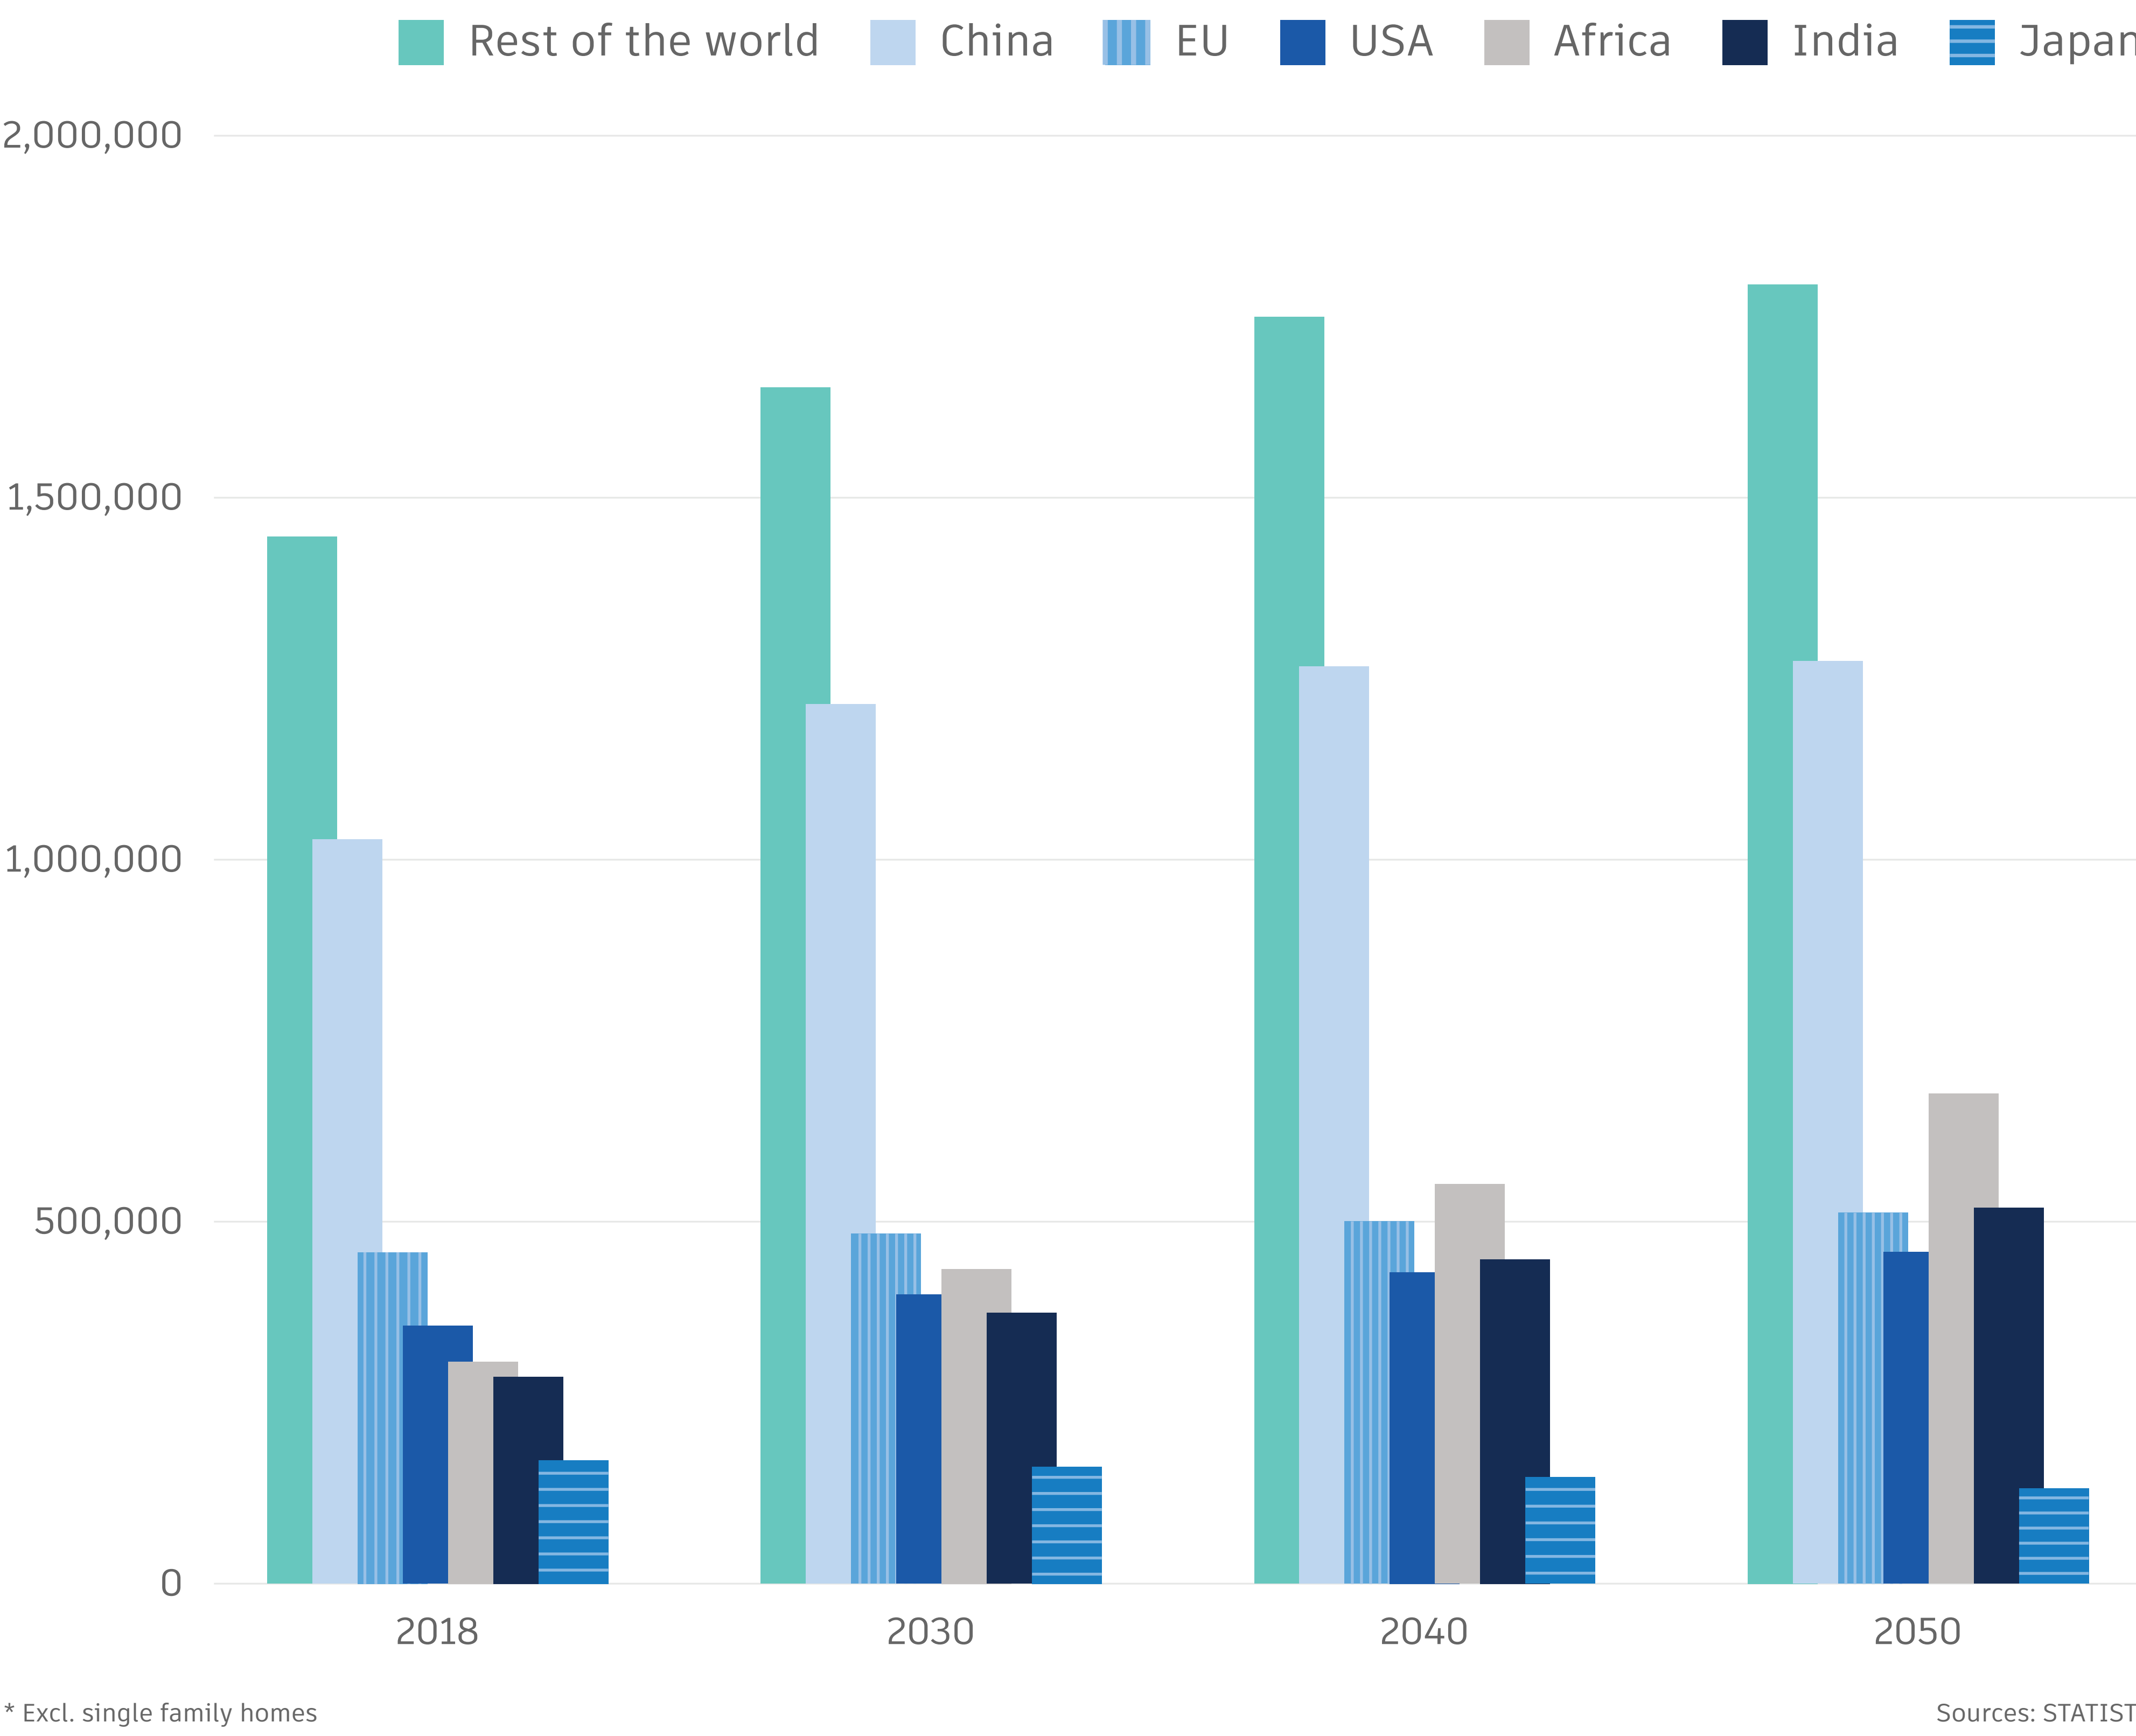

The population of the world's urban areas is increasing by 200,000
people per day

Average number of buildings constructed in urban areas daily (2018–2050)*

Average number of buildings constructed in urban areas annually (2018–2050)*

Projected daily growth for the number of buildings constructed worldwide to support the urban population*

* All nonresidential and residential buildings (excl. single family homes) in urban areas

Contractors have to build 3,600 more buildings per day by 2050!

